

Masterclass in Corporate Governance and Ethics - Case Study Approach

Building an ethical culture that is supported by sound corporate governance principles and practice allows an organisation to comply with established ethical and legal standards. With the recent spate of corporate governance and ethical lapses in South Africa, managers and leaders in private and public sector organisations must be equipped to enhance the level of compliance. This programme will unpack the most recent local and international corporate governance and ethical failures, providing valuable insight and equipping delegates with a thorough understanding of these important concepts.

Structure

This programme will be delivered over 1 day. Delegates completing the programme will receive a certificate of attendance.

Who should attend?

- Business owners
- Entrepreneurs
- Managers and directors from public and private sector
- Junior managers and supervisors
- Self-employed professionals including accountants and attorneys
- Business consultants

Upon completion of the programme, delegates should be able to:

- Understand the practice of ethics in the business context;
- Understand the application of the King Codes and how they relate to corporate governance and ethics;
- Apply ethical standards and codes in the workplace context; and
- Identify unethical behaviour.
